WHO'S WHO
IN E&P A&D 2006

At press time, West Texas Intermediate was $77 on Nymex for September delivery, while BP had just announced some 400,000 barrels of daily Prudhoe Bay production would be offline for possibly several months during repair of some 16 miles of pipeline. September-delivery Henry Hub gas was trading at roughly $7, while gas in storage remained large, and unhedged producers were concerned about forward prices.

This price volatility is what upstream acquisitions and divestitures thrive on—where buyers and sellers see the futures market differently.

Nearly 400 of these buyers and sellers are profiled in these pages this year in our fifth annual directory of go-to personnel within E&P companies for acquiring and divesting assets. They represent some 260 companies, from major oils to private start-ups.

Contacts for the integrated oils here represent BP, ExxonMobil, Shell, Total, Chevron, ConocoPhillips, Marathon, Murphy, Hess Corp. and Occidental.

The largest U.S. independents are here too, including Devon Energy, Anadarko Petroleum, Apache, Chesapeake Energy, XTO Energy, Pogo Producing, Pioneer Natural Resources, Range Resources, EOG Resources, Cimarex Energy, Southwestern Energy, Newfield Exploration, Swift Energy and Forest Oil.

And, several Canadian companies are included: EnCana Corp., Nexen Inc., Enerplus and Provident, to name a few.

Some of last year's participants, such as Burlington Resources, have since been sold. Some in this year's edition were in the midst of being acquired at press time, including Stone Energy Corp., Kerr-McGee Corp. and Western Gas Resources.

Some participants are entirely new, such as Phoenix Exploration, a start-up by former Gryphon Exploration team members, and Lime Rock Resources, which has been formed with direct institutional funding arranged and sponsored by private-equity firm Lime Rock Partners.

We hope you find the 2006 directory useful. Indices are by company and also by contact name. And, you'll find a directory of A&D advisory firms here as well.

Until our September 2007 update, may all your deals be good.

Global Leader in Oil & Gas M&A

Clients have come to rely on Scotia Waterous, the global Oil and Gas M&A arm of Scotia Capital, for superior advice and execution. Our comprehensive technical understanding of oil and gas assets on a worldwide basis has made us a leader in Oil & Gas M&A. And with the North American and global capabilities of Scotia Capital, the corporate and investment banking arm of the Scotiabank Group, we can introduce clients to a seamless full-service financing and capital markets platform.

Since January 2005, we have conducted over 80 upstream mandates and advised on $4.5 billion in transactions in the U.S. and offered over $25 billion globally in oil and gas companies and assets.

With Scotia Waterous, superior knowledge generates superior results.

THE CONTINUOUS OIL & GAS AUCTION MARKETPLACE

By Selling 21,000 Properties over the past 6 years, EnergyNet Sellers have proven three key principles:

- THE SUM OF THE PARTS IS GREATER THAN THE WHOLE

Properties which are sold at their elemental level (single well, lease or field), rather than grouped into large negotiated packages do, in fact, bring a significant premium.

It just makes sense! There are more buyers in the marketplace capable of spending $500,000 than able to commit $50 MM.

The sum of the parts is indeed greater than the whole when subjected to the competitive bidding process found only at EnergyNet.

- GEOGRAPHIC DIVERSITY

Geographically Diverse packages benefit by being broken down into their elemental parts. When property packages are bundled to include many different counties, states and property types, a large number of buyers are excluded from the competition. By marketing and selling properties in the most logical, elemental pieces you maximize value for each part of the package and do not exclude buyers from the process.

- SHORTER SALE CYCLE

The old days of cancelled auctions and two month lead times for live auctions are a thing of the past.

Why wait? EnergyNet can prepare, market, and close a set of property transactions much faster than preparing, showing, negotiating the Purchase & Sale Agreement, and closing a negotiated package of the same size. We make property divestiture easier and faster than ever before. Our process allows us to handle as much for a company as requested, including gathering data, preparing properties, filing the conveyance documents, escrow and post-closing services.
